

ADAM SHAJNFELD

66-10 BOOTH STREET • REGO PARK, NY 11374 • PHONE (917) 270-8088
EMAIL: ADAMSHAJNFELD@GMAIL.COM

EDUCATION

Columbia University School of Law, J.D., May 2007

Honors: Harlan Fiske Stone Scholar, 2006-2007

Journal: Columbia Human Rights Law Review

Production Editor, 2006 – 2007; Staff Editor, 2005 – 2006

Cornell Law School, August 2004 – May 2005

Honors: Admitted to the Cornell Law Review

Top 10% of class

Dean's list

New York University, B.A. in Philosophy, cum laude, June 2004

Honors: University Honors Scholar

Dean's list

PUBLICATIONS

Reforming (Purportedly) Non-Punitive Responses to Sexual Offending (with Richard B. Krueger, M.D.), 25 Developments in Mental Health Law 81 (2006) (peer-reviewed journal of the University of Virginia Schools of Law & Medicine).

The Possibility of an Imprisoned Sex Offender's Informed Consent to Castration: Theory & Law, forthcoming in Sex Offender Law Report, Civic Research Institute (2007).

EXPERIENCE

Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP, New York, N.Y.

Summer 2006; September 2007 -

Summer Associate; Full-time Associate Commencing September 2007

Worked on litigation, corporate, tax, and pro bono matters. Researched and drafted documents related to federal Indian law, the Rockefeller Drug Laws, the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, private securities offerings, securities fraud, and advising the U.S. Senate Finance Committee on international tax reform.

Queens District Attorney's Office, Queens, N.Y.

Summer 2005

Legal Intern, Organized Crime Division

Wrote briefs and memoranda, researched statutes and case law, reviewed evidence and investigation materials, conducted trial preparation, and prepared a prosecutor for an appellate court appearance on an issue of first impression.

Merrill Lynch & Co., New York, N.Y.

Summer 2003

Intern

Assisted clients, researched financial-sector information, and devised new ways to attract private clients.

Legal Aid Society, Queens, N.Y.

Summer 2002

Investigative Intern

Tracked down witnesses, obtained statements, located key evidence for criminal cases, and worked with a team of attorneys to promote our clients' interests; developed many skills, including witness questioning, impromptu problem solving, teamwork and diligence.

New York City Police Dept., Queens, N.Y.

2000-2001

Auxiliary Police Officer (volunteer)

Duties included patrolling neighborhoods, crime prevention and awareness, coordinating community functions, and extensive community service; worked on special undercover assignments with NYPD Vice Squad; received an award from a N.Y. State Senator in recognition of my volunteer work.