

Friends in pink hues salutation

DEAGON resident Veronica Macaulay-Cross OAM may have lost her battle with breast cancer earlier this year but friends are now taking up her fight against the killer disease. Sisters Jazz Tyrril-

Smart and Cad Tyrril, whose mother Karen was a close friend of Ms Macaulay-Cross, will turn Shorncliffe's Upper Moora Park into a sea of pink this Sunday in memory of the breast cancer campaigner. "We thought the best way to honour her memory was to keep raising awareness by supporting and remembering friends and family with breast cancer," Ms Tyrril-Smart said.

Plant the Park Pink Mini-Field of Women is from 11am on Sunday at Upper Moora Park, Park Pde, Shorncliffe.
