Nairobi Day Visits

Waiting for a flight and having to spend a day in Nairobi why not go and visit the Nairobi National Park.

If you are having the energy you can go around the Nairobi Safari Walk or if you've just had a long distant flight how about being driven around the Nairobi National Park and see some fantastic wildlife.

Nairobi National Park

and the first to be established in East Africa. It is the crown jewel of Kenya's conservation drive, and is very unique in its offering. No other city in the world can boast a natural wilderness, teeming with wildlife and home to over 400 species of birds, just ten kilometres from the city centre. With an oasis of lion-gold plains, acacia-fringed rivers, leopard-stalked cliffs, plunging gorges and murky hippo pools the only place on earth where you can find a black rhino grazing against the silhouettes of office blocks and skyscrapers.

Nairobi Safari Walk

Remember Sebastian the acrobatic chimp and the enormous Bengal tigers the only one sin Africa, back in the Animal Orphanage? Now imagine a fresh variety of wildlife, in their natural environment viewed from a roof top level...Quite Breathtaking! Thais Nairobi Safari Walk at the moment. A walk transformed, modernized traversing 27 exotic acres into Nairobi National Park from its establishment on 1997.

Through out the Nairobi Safari Walk, don't miss your chance to come face-to-face with some of our amazing wildlife. Viewing blinds have been built to take you up-close and fully protected. Don't make loud noises or scare the animals. Get close to Lion, Rhino, Cheetah, Leopard and Crocodile.

Itinerary

You can be picked up from the Jomo Kenyatta International Airport and be taken to the Nairobi National Park for the day and you'll be dropped back off again in the evening at the airport to catch your evening flight.
