

Like father like son!

The Bramalls are coming!

Is this a record?

Local LibDems have come up with a unique father-and-son team to fight the forthcoming general election. In March Stourbridge Liberal Democrats selected Chris Bramall as their prospective candidate. Now Liberal Democrats in next-door Dudley South have chosen Chris's son Jon as their prospective candidate.

Chris Bramall, a 62-year old solicitor, says: "Jon won't thank me for this, but of course I'm proud of him. I remember him knocking on doors for one of my campaigns when he was only 12 years old. But now he's very much a person in his own right. He knows much more about politics than I do. Dudley South would do very well to have such a dynamic campaigner as their MP."

Jon Bramall, a 22-year old final year law student, says: "The Liberal Democrats are the real alternative here in the West Midlands and nationally. My Dad and I want to fight for the people of Stourbridge and Dudley South, and expose the spin and misinformation being put out by the Labour and Conservative parties."
