

Gratitude

From the depths of my heart,
Where the eternal flame of Heaven lives,
It brings me the greatest Joy to call forth;

A thousand angels to watch over your greatest dreams & endeavors,

Infinite blessings to fall in a gentle kiss upon the light of your face,

Delicate points of light to forever illumine your path,
Soft unspoken winds of the utmost ancient wisdom,

Omnipotent clouds of Grace for your eternal renewal in Spirit,

The serenity of every sunrise since the dawn of creation,

All the fluid glossiness of water, strength of mountains, swiftness of wind and clarity of crystal for your right-use-ness,

Trickles and tickles of the greatest Joy to be poured forth into the very core of your being,

And the spaciousness of a deeply rooted knowing that You Are all that is Beautiful Now, and all of the grander yet still growing,

For the laughter, love, and life I feel in my heart from what you have taught me, simply must be returned to you a thousand fold for all eternity!

© Sara Dawn, June 2003