-S/S Hekla II-

The "Hekla" (2) was built in 1884 by Scott & Co, Greenock to replace her namesake. Tonnage was 3,258 tons gross and 2,113 net. Dimensions: 333.2 feet long, 41.6 foot beam and holds 22 feet deep (length 100,65m x beam 12,77m), poop 35 feet long, bridge deck 63 feet long and forecastle 46 feet long. Iron construction, straight stem, one funnel, three masts (Schooner). Propulsion: compound engine with 2 inverted cylinders of 46 & 84 inches diameter respectively; stroke 54 inches; 450 horsepower. The engine was built by the same company as the hull. She had a single screw and a speed of 11 knots. There was accommodation for 40-1st, 30-2nd and 800-3rd class passengers. Launched on 29th February 1884, she sailed from Copenhagen on her maiden voyage to Christiania (Oslo), Christiansand and New York on 14th May 1884. Master: Captain Thomsen, appointed to the shipping line in 1881 and to the ship in 1885. Her last voyage on this route started in March 1905. She left Christiania on March 2, the rudder stock broke after 3 days of storm on Mar. 11th. She arrived at the Azores after an emergency rudder had been fitted on Mar. 22 and later the same year she was sold to Danish owners and renamed "Eduard Regel". In 1909 she went to Russian owners and was renamed "Minsk". and was scrapped in 1910.
