

Dear Parents,

As you know, teenagers live in a challenging and oftentimes perplexing world. Bombarded by the messages of the pop culture surrounding them, Christian teens are in desperate need of an unyielding, immovable faith that will help them live each day for Jesus.

Dare 2 Share’s Invincible Conference Tour is designed to help teens grow in that kind of deep, immovable faith and to equip them to share their faith with their friends who don’t know Jesus. We are excited to have the opportunity to be a part of the work that God is going to do in our community through this life-changing weekend. The conference is specifically designed to help teens know, live, share, and own their faith. This year the students will be putting on the armor of God from Ephesians 6:10-20.

Here is how the Dare 2 Share weekend will specifically impact your students:

- ✓ Teens will catch a glimpse of the spiritual battle raging between the forces of darkness and the kingdom of God for the souls of their friends. They will learn to rely on the limitless wisdom and power that God makes available to them as they wage war for the souls of their friends.
- ✓ Students will learn about the personal armor God has provided to help them win the battle against sin and Satan. Some of this armor will protect them, some will propel them. But all the armor has been given by God to make them invincible to the forces of darkness. Teenagers will discover how to protect their mind, heart and soul, learning how to take up the shield of faith and hide behind the promises of God when Satan attacks.
- ✓ Teens will be unleashed to speak and live the truth while relying on the power of the gospel, God’s Word and prayer. They will learn how to share their faith with their friends in real and relevant ways.

Packed with all the stuff teens love—music, interactive games, special effects, and an intense Friday night drama production written just for them—the conference is set up to capture their attention throughout the weekend.

Also, there is a special youth leader breakout session, which I am looking forward to! It will help youth leaders like me learn how to unleash the evangelism principles and strategies that Dare 2 Share has refined through their 17 years of research and working with youth ministries across the nation.

Dare 2 Share is committed to providing youth leaders and students with resources to help them in their walk with Christ and their pursuit of sharing Christ with others. Check out their website, www.dare2share.org. You can find tons of free, culturally relevant resources there, as well as a variety of books available for purchase that will deepen your teen’s walk with God and help them reach their friends for Christ.

As our youth group prepares for this challenging conference, I am asking that you commit to praying for us! Pray for the students to be prepared to take the message they receive and use it to transform their lives through Christ and impact their communities! Pray we will be used mightily in advancing His kingdom here in our city and beyond. Below are the details for this weekend.
