Dear Miss Dickerson:

You have been chosen to train for a Peace Corps assignment overseas.

We believe you are one of the small group that can do the job that must be done. It is a tough job with many difficulties and frustrations. But the opportunities and rewards are also great. You will be of service to people of a developing nation; and, depending on your own efforts, you can have a highly enriching, educational experience.

Read the enclosed materials. A brochure describes what your group will do. You will be serving for a total of 24 months in the Peace Corps. This includes your initial training period. You will receive specific dates in the reporting instructions approximately thirty days before the beginning of training. Study the Peace Corps handbook, especially pages 7-13 on the selection process. Fill out the Invitation Acceptance Form and get it back to us within ten days. Then we can complete the arrangements for your training.

If you are unable to give us an immediate answer, just send us a note telling when you will be able to let us know.

I hope that I may have the opportunity of meeting you one day in person, either in training or overseas in the Peace Corps.

Best wishes.

Sincerely,

Sargent Shriver
Director
