Usual odds-and-ends

She usually keeps in a large duffle bag odds and ends for various things that may come up. She usually has a small toolkit, a pink rain poncho, spare clean suit (pretty much a one-piece, impermiabile, loose-fitting bodysuit like a painter or crime-scene worker would wear), box of rubber gloves, pen-light, spare DVD-RWs, and a small insulated bag for a lunch and drink. Whatever room is left is used to store her devices, and her equipment. Some of her gear is put into a compartment under the seat of her motorcycle.

Miscellaneous Information

Allegiances:

Overclock is dedicated to the cause of Knowledge. Without which, she believes is a tragic loss. This drives her to seek new things and to explore new possibilities. Even if it means that it gets her into a spot of hot water from time to time.

Overclock believes in the inherent good in all, and fights to protect and champion that belief. She doesn't take a boy-scout approach to it, allowing actions speak for her.

Personality:

Ami is a warm, and geeky 16 year old. Not seemingly like the genius some would expect her to act. Her sense of what is truly right can make her seem Neieve at times, but it generally helps her more than hurts. She puts off the air of a trustable person, although at times when things get going she can sometimes be direct and to the point. Sometimes being closer to stern than warm.

Usual Civilian Clothing Habits:

Ami wears pretty much whatever she can get her hands on. She has no regard for fashion, and sometimes ends up clashing more than complimenting colors and clothing styles.

Hobbies:

Outside of inventing, she is an Anime and Manga fan. Some believe that she gets some of her inspiration for her inventions from such sources.
