Hosting collective learning to intentionally evolve

Spring/Summer 2010

Dear Friends - It is time to connect with you as we journey further into 2010. 2009 was another amazing year for us. We entered into a deeper relationship of being at home with Axladitsa. The land also invited us to ground our work of Hara to another level that strengthened our ability to move into increasingly complex work of shifting human systems and consciousness. We more and more see ourselves as 'translators', 'transporters' and 'transformers' of a new way of relating to life; one where we participate, guardian and host life into more life. We feel deep gratitude for the amazing community of people that we continue to work and learn with - thank you!! We take this opportunity to share how you can participate in our work and lives, as well as share news about some of our ongoing projects.

Axladitsa Calendar

Axladitsa Immersion - Apprenticing to Mastery, 8-16 May: hosted with Vanessa Reid. Come, join fellow learners to further shape your practice and mastery. Come source your deeper knowing and artistry - in service of life and our planet. We invite you into a powerful learning container: a field of practice combining the body of work of intentional evolution and collective learning and this place, Axladitsa Avatakia. We will be learning, living and working together in the Art of Hosting pattern and practice.

Axladitsa Summer, 18-31 July: Explore the gifts of traditional greek storytelling and sea kayak along the Aegean shoreline, cook luscious greek food, camp in the olive groves, host ones self and each other...relax...! Join us for one or two weeks.

Week 1: Traditional Greek Storytelling, 18-24 July: hosted with Stelios Pelasgos

Week 2: Sea Kayaking, 25-31 July: hosted with Vassilis Gravanis

Retreat: Axladitsa provides a safe, peaceful and static-free zone to retreat closer to source - individually and collectively - and re-member to integrity and wholeness.

Collective Inquiries: We continue to inquire into the Art of Protection and the Edge of Collective Sourcing through offering trainings wherever called.

Hosting Regional Wholeness: Using the practice of 'caravanning', we are part of a regional circle of hosts, calling intentional journeying, hosting and co-creative leadership throughout the Eastern Mediterranean and the Middle East.

Hara: Our work of hosting collective learning continues through different projects where systemic level shifts are being sought to evolve our way of living and working. Some examples are:

Working for Harrogate Borough Council with Linda Joy Mitchell, www.lindajoymitchell.org.uk to engage the whole organisation to create a vision and values for the Council.

Working for the European Commission with Interchange, www.interchange.de offering trainings in the Art of Participatory Leadership, as well as applying participatory leadership within Directorates in the Commission.

Working for the WWF UK with Natural Innovation, www.naturalinno.net to create a stakeholder engagement process for the One Planet Food Project, seeking to shift the UK production and consumption habits of food.

Working with Together for Peace www.t4p.org.uk and offering an Art of Hosting Meaningful Conversations training for the city of Leeds, UK.

Being stewards of the Powers of Place Initiative, www.powersofplace.com a global initiative, researching how the power of place can transform our humanity and systems.

Action Researching Living Wholeness - creating a body of work of Intentional Evolution through Collective Learning by exploring several inquiry streams.
