ROB B CAUGHT UP IN DISGUSTING SEX SCANDAL!!!!

It was reported today that guitarist for the group Stay Heavy was caught up in sex scandal allegations. Nancy Nerken-splerker, the controversial reporter for the magazine "Who bonked who" has uncovered that Rob B has allegedly fathered a child !! The object of his affections was none other than Joanne B, who has been closely linked to Rob for the last 8 years. They were spotted leaving a house in Watsonia together with a 4 year old child in the back seat of Robs HSV (black in colour).

When asked for a statement to explain the situation Joanne said "we've been married for years !" and Rob allegedly made a lewd gesture before the quickly gathering crowd. Then it was reported that the child (whos name is reported to be Brayden) exited the car and said "I am appalled at this absolute invasion into the privacy of the individuals in question, and the derogatory manner of its execution. I fail to see what the fuss is about."

Heres hoping the public can see fit to forgive Rob for this latest scandalous behaviour.....one things for certain- we'll be hearing much more about this lecherous sex-mad womaniser in the near future!!

Brayden B: ' Why all the fuss?'

Rob B: ' get f*&@!d'

What happened to the families garden knomes after talking to the media.....cruel.

Eavesdropping into the world of 'Stay Heavy'

We have recently intercepted some email conversations between some of the members of 'Stay Heavy' and have the privilege of sharing them with you. We can't mention any names, let's just call them 'T-A' and the other 'R-B'. Don't worry too much if it makes no sense whatsoever....your not alone.

We think this has something to do with eating dinner before rehearsal on thursday night and maybe sending some strange porn over the internet????

T-A Good practice last night! I was particularly impressed with the effort put into nearly demolishing 2 family size pizzas. If Stay Heavy puts as much effort into their playing as into the degustation of certain Italian-themed take-away meals, the 6th of December should be a cracker of a night!

R-B Thanks for the pic. Also...as discussed and promised last night, I just now have released one of my patented post Baccus March pizza 'handsome' nards into the Moorabbin waste system.

T-A Thanks for the update.Unfortunately,we will require a much more detailed account of the whole procedure undertaken, including, but not limited to: Texture, odour, taste (optional), effort levels, amounts. I also hope you applied in writing to the relevant Moorabbin authorities before any steps to commence abovementioned ablutions were undertaken.

Where The Cat's At...

Welcome to the first in our brand new adventure series "Where The Cat's At." Many people (well, one) have expressed an interest in the weekly sleeping habits of Rob B's cat Zen, as he often chooses the most bizarre of places to rest his weary head. In the past Zen has been known to sleep in the washing machine, the letter box, Rob's brief case, the fruit bowl, an empty guitar case, the grass catcher, inside a Webber barbecue and once managed to squeeze himself inside an upturned W.W.II American Army helmet which he stayed in for a fortnight.

In other happenings, last week Zen ate some soap (god knows why) and spent an afternoon asleep on the couch blowing little bubbles out of his nose. Zen also enjoys chasing a ping pong ball around the kitchen at 4:30am in the morning and will only eat Home Brand pilchards. He refuses to drink from any water source unless it's in a glass bowl on the coffee table. Zen will not go outside unless he has had a warm serve of canned condensed milk. About a month ago he bit the elderly lady next door when she tried to pat him, leaving a horrid scar on her right hand which has turned black.

Rare photos of Zen actually awake.
