hired Deepak as a Website designer in 2010

"At the ADP theatre workshop the interactions with Deepak were one of most enriching experiences as an amateur actor for our entire theatre group. He conducted an applied dramatics workshop for our associates in ADP, incorporating his learnings from the dramatics field and making the experience enjoyable for all of us. This of course was primarily attributed to his exceptional communication skills and his thorough understanding of theatre. He has great command over the English language with a good sense of humour. He is a man who is dedicated and passionate about what he loves doing the best. Hope to see him partner with us for many such projects. All the best Deepak." March 11, 2010

Mehul Patel,

hired Deepak as a Media/Marketing Communications in 2007

"My interactions with Deepak were one of most enriching experiences as an amateur actor.

He was a complete actor's Director very rarely showing what he wants rather he believed in extracting what he wanted through his excellent directorial skills. This of course was primarily attributed to his exceptional communication skills and his thorough understanding of theatre.

More interestingly he was a complete all-rounder with great command over the English language (he wrote the plays that he directed), a great voice which he used with great effect as an actor and even as a singer.

A complete no-nonsense man who is dedicated and passionate about what he loves doing the best." July 12, 2007

"Discovered almost a decade ago, Deepak Morris, packs a unique combination of talents, temperament & skills. Theatre is closest to his heart. A gifted voice over artist as he is, displays his excellence through script writing about the most mundane subjects. Acquisition of multiple digital skills is a never ending passion with him. Under the pressure of schedules his creativity indeed blooms. In a team work situation, he adds a dynamic which cannot be topped. He has diverse deliverables up his sleeve. I strongly recommend him as a partner in search of creative solutions." June 25, 2007

"What I like about Deepak's work is that he is able to incorporate subtle nuances into whatever he does, without ever losing sight of the larger audience. He definitely has a global vision, and I have seen work (which originated with local flavor) being morphed and promoted by him very successfully in various countries. I think that's because he somehow has a good understanding of cultures, which enables him to communicate across various social divides. Cheers to him." June 24, 2007
